Investment aims and Structure

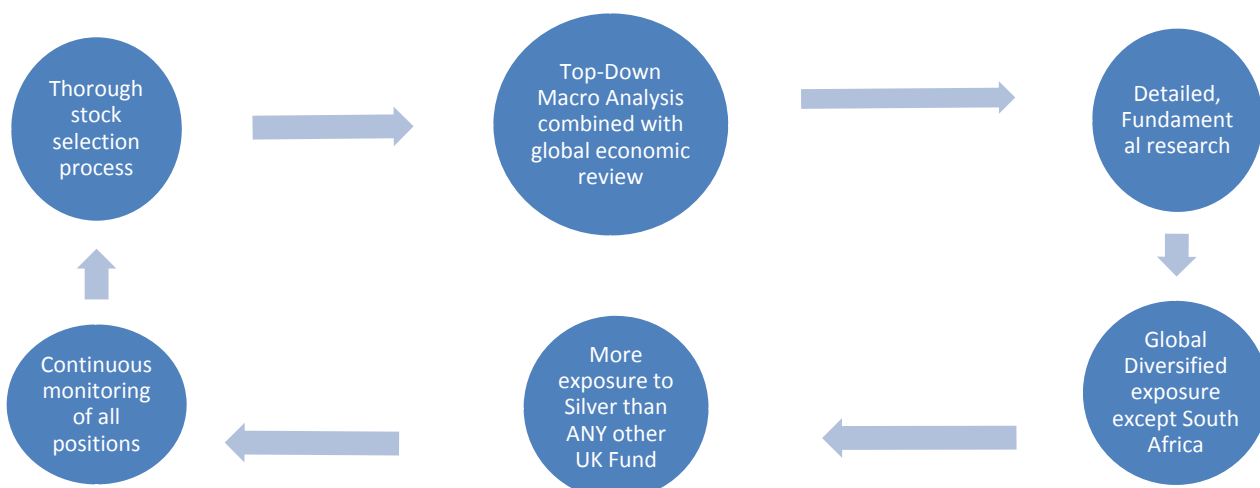

This is a UCITS Fund which seeks to outperform the XAU Philadelphia Gold Mining Index converted into sterling. As a long-only non-leveraged fund that provides investors with exposure to Gold, Silver & blue chip precious metal mining companies.

Investment strategy

- ➔ Fund will not “short” or “hedge” metal prices or metal assets in any way while not necessarily missing out on capital gains
- ➔ In our view, Gold/Silver Shares tend to outperform Gold/Silver bullion in a bull market due to operational gearing which is why we have a 65/35 Silver/Gold allocation. (as at 31.03.17)
- ➔ Quality of the asset base, i.e. Proven and profitable reserves are key
- ➔ The “Beta” to a given move in the underlying commodity i.e. Cost of production relative to current price
- ➔ More Exposure to Silver & Silver mining shares than ANY other UK Fund. The fund is not eligible to invest in South African stocks.

Investment potential advantages vs. ETF

- ➔ Gold & Precious metal mining companies have the ability to pay dividends and/or introduce the ability to pay dividends to shareholders
- ➔ Gold & Precious metal mining companies have the potential and ability to make discoveries due to their exploration activities. ETFs are unable to do this.
- ➔ Gold & Precious metal mining companies can be subject to merger & acquisition (M&A) activity from larger companies in their specific sectors rewarding existing shareholders

Q & A

How is this Fund different from other specialist funds?
The fund has also got the highest exposure to Silver mining equities than any other specialist fund in the country. A key driver behind the Fund being the best performing fund in the UK for calendar year 2016 (up 133.95%*). The Fund does not and will not hold any South African domiciled securities but does have the capability to invest up to 10% into ETFs and ETC's at the manager's discretion.

What is your competitive edge?
The Fund does not invest in small cap, early exploration or AIM stocks keeping the fund highly liquid. The size of the fund does enable us to switch in and out of shares fairly easily at the manager's discretion whereas much larger funds can have trouble shifting strategies and/or stock when the market turns.

Why invest in this sector?
Gold is a foundation asset within any long term savings or investment portfolio. Gold is viewed as a "flight to safety" given the global economic turmoil especially in the US, UK and Western Europe. The various QE programmes that have been implemented has given much validity to the exposure to Gold and precious metals in portfolios. The precious metals sector also provides diversification away from risk, fixed income and equities exposure.

How do you divide research responsibilities in the team?
With almost 40 years of experience, Nick Taylor's knowledge of individual shares is exemplary and is key to decision making of stock selection. Ian Williams has overall management responsibilities for the Fund – his expertise is the broader macro backdrop and as well as his knowledge of the sector. The Charteris team also harnesses various research portals and other detailed research material.

What type of investors would this fund appeal to?
A broad range of investors would find this fund useful in their portfolio's – primarily those looking for growth and diversification. Investors can therefore be sure that the underlying stock selection is based purely on the fundamentals of each company and potential upside. In this respect, investors can gain exposure to a sector with great companies with strong overseas earnings that can produce an enhanced return on their investment.

What are the risks?
Like all equity funds, the value of this investment and the income from it can go down as well as up. Past performance should not be a guide to future performance as market conditions, currency risk and commodity price movements can affect investor returns.
